

Andrew Fuller (part 1):
The Character and Ministry of a Model Pastor-Theologian

Workshop 1—Daniel Huffstutler

I. He was raised in poverty and had no formal training

II. He experienced difficult personal circumstances

III. He read and wrote much despite a busy ministry

IV. He believed in and practiced expositional preaching

V. He vigorously defended the Bible in the public arena

VI. He was a theological heavyweight engaged in matters of primary importance

VII. He led a revival in evangelism and missions in his day

VIII. He struggled with his own human weaknesses